Start mit Blitz und Donner

Die kleine Zeltstadt auf der Rennbahn übersteht heftige Gewitter-Nacht

Von Ina Seltmann
BAD HARZBURG. Zumindest sind sie trocken geblieben. Die sechsköpfige estnische Familie Kaldur aus der Nahe von Tallinn hat die Gewitternacht einigermaßen uberstanden.

Dass Markus (6), Laura-Lits (5), L is-Marie (2) und Baby Maria (9 Monate) aber die Nahe von Mama und Papa hatten, half sicherlich durch Blitz und Dorner. Schaag gegenüber hat ein tschechisches Ehepaar weni ger Gluck gehabt: Das ganze Zelt hatte umgesetzt werden mússen, alle Sachen hingen zum Trocknen an der frischen Luft.
Peter Artmann as Hildesheim sieht sich ganz anderen "Gelahren" ausgesetzt: In der schwal-feuchten Gewitterluft begeistem sich kdeine schwarae Fliegin fur setn neongelbes Sporthemd, das er schnell gegen ein dunkelblaues austauscht - und sofort insekterfiel ist Im grollatumigen Familienzelt blikb dafor alles trocken.
Ebenso hat Ilm Russell aus Bendgo/Australien , ganz gut" genachtigt. -No Problem", sugt or. Sein Zelt sel so konstrulert, dass das Wasser gut abgelaufen sel, meint ec. Jim kommt direkt aus Finnland von einem Ori-entierungs-Nachtlauf, bet dem zum ersten Mal eln australisches Team startete Daher tst ex mit leichtem Gepaick unterwegs. Doch bel aller Einfachleit legt er viel Wert auf verschledene Schuthe fur unterschiediches Gelinde. Und die vielen Paare blieben alle trocken..

lim Russell und seine Schuhe sind trocken geblieben.

Starting with thunder and lightning

The mini tent city on the racecourse survived the stormy night
By Ina Seltmann
Bad Harzburg. At least they stayed dry. The six-person Kaldur family from near Tallinn in Estonia weathered the stormy night.
The fact that Markus (6), Laura-Liis (5), Liis-Marie (2) and baby Maria (9 months) were close to their parents definitely helped during the thunder and lightning. The Czech couple diagonally opposite didn't have as much luck: their entire tent had to be moved, with everything now hanging out in the fresh air to dry.
Peter Artmann from Hildesheim is having other issues: the humid air sees little black flies excitedly flocking to his fluoro yellow shirt. A quick change to a dark blue one leaves him insect-free. At least everything in his large family tent stayed dry.
Jim Russell from Bendigo, Australia, also spent the night "really well." "No problem," he said. He says that his tent is designed so that water runs off easily. Jim arrived directly from a night orienteering race in Finland, where an Australian team competed for the first time. That means he's travelling lightly. Despite his minimal luggage, he prioritises different shoes for different terrains. And every single pair stayed dry...

And Google Translate gives it's version...

Start with lightning and thunder

The small tent city on the track survives heavy thunderstorm overnight
By Ina Seltmann
BAD HARZBURG. At the very least are they stayed dry. The six-member Estonian family Kaldur was from Tallinn near the somewhat stormy night survived.
The Mark (6), Laura Liis (5), Liis- Marie (2) and Baby Mary (9 months) But the closeness of mother and Dad had helped certainly by Lightning and thunder. Diagonally across a Czech couple has less lucky: The whole tent had to be implemented, all things are hanging on to dry the fresh air.
Peter Artmann from Hildesheim looks very different to "threats" subject: In the sweltering, humid sultry air inspired little black flies for his neongelbes sports shirt, which he quickly against a dark blue exchanges - and now is insect free. In large-scale tent remained for all dry.
Likewise, Jim Russell from Bendigo / Australia "very well" spent the night. "No problem," he says. His tent was constructed so that the water well expired, he says. Jim is directly from Finland by a guidance night run in which the first time an Australian team launched. Therefore, it is easy of luggage. Yet for all simplicity, he places great importance on different shoes for different terrain. And many couples all stayed dry...

Some Reminders for Everyone

Here are a few items that were discussed at the August Meeting. They are reminders for organisers and competitors. They may seem a bit trivial but they make life easier for someone when they done so please make sure you remember to carry them out.

A reminder for event organisers: hired SI sticks should be used only once at each Saturday event. Please don't mix unused and used SI sticks.

People organising the next event help with packing up and control collection the week before. They need to arrange for someone else to do this if they are unavailable that week. Don't just assume "someone" will do it. It shouldn't be up to that week's organiser to then pack up and arrange for the controls to be collected although they usually do help.

Please make sure you fill in all details on the registration stubs, and don't just put you first name there (or a fake name!). Don't forget your car rego number is a safety issue if we are trying to determine if someone has returned from their course or not. We need to be able to match up stubs with cars that are still there.

There may still be some unclaimed or unsold polo tops from the last order. Does anyone know where they might be? If we can locate them we can then work out what we need to order.
